UM JOURNALISM STUDENT AWARDED NATIONAL SCHOLARSHIP

MISSOULA, Mont.--

Kevin Rhoades, a graduate student in print journalism at The University of Montana-Missoula, was one of six recipients in the nation awarded a $2,500 Outdoor Writers Association of America scholarship for the 1998-99 academic year.

A native of Monroeville, Ind., Rhoades lives in Missoula with his wife, Andrea. He is the son of Lynn Rhoades of Monroeville and Mary Harris of Van Wert, Ohio, and a 1976 graduate of Heritage High School.

The OWAA scholarships are intended for students interested in writing about outdoor topics. Rhoades submitted writing clips and some photos of wolves he had taken to the OWAA Education Committee to receive the scholarship.

Rhoades has worked for the National Park Service and as a wolf trainer on a game farm. He has written articles for Bowhunter magazine and is currently completing a 13-week newspaper internship with the Missoulian.
